

Fabio Villegas Ramírez
AVIANCA-TACA holding

Fabio Villegas Ramírez is an economist graduate from the Jorge Tadeo Lozano University in Bogota and also holds a master's degree from the London School of Economics and a Diploma in Development Planning from the University of London.

Throughout his professional career he has served in key positions in the public and private sectors. He was General Secretary of the Presidency of the Republic of Colombia, a Government Minister and Ambassador to the Organization of American States-OEA.

In the business world he has been Advisor to the Business Organization Luis Carlos Sarmiento Angulo, Director-General of Latin America for Deutsche Bank and the Rothschild Group, and President of the Colombian National association of Financial Institutions, ANIF.

In 2005 he became President of Avianca. He has been CEO of AVIANCA-TACA holding since October 2009. amet.